

BARRE GETS THE PENNANT

By Defeating Montpelier Base Ball Team Saturday

IN WIERD EXHIBITION.

"Rube" Greene's Spit Ball Was Not Working Smoothly and Montpelier Had Excess of Buttered Fingers.

Montpelier looked prettier, but Barre played better ball. Therefore, the pennant comes to Barre.

The ball game between the Barre and Montpelier stockholders in the Inter-city Athletic association, for the possession of the Northern League championship banner won by the Inter-citys, was pulled off at the local park Saturday afternoon. If errors had counted instead of runs Montpelier would surely have won, for the ball players from down the Union had a corner on them. Eighteen misplays crowded into eight innings make an average of two and a fourth to each inning. Pitcher "Rube" Vickers' Greene of the defeated team remarked that if he had been given decent support he would have won; and certainly the score would have been closer than 21 to 14.

Previous to the starting of the game the two teams pranced out to center field and howled feebly as they raised aloft the blue banner which the Inter-city ball team won by dint of much effort, while a few feeble squeaks were echoed from the two hundred in the audience. The banner was inscribed "Champions 1905." Then Manager "Punch" Daley called the game.

The Barreites took the field first, and incidentally it may be remarked that they kept it all through the game. At only one point did they approach the danger line, or rather did the danger line approach them. That was when Montpelier got within two of tying the score in the seventh inning. The whiff of victory stirred the supporters of Montpelier to unheard of activity, but, alas, the Barre team unkindly made five scores in the next inning and nailed the game so high up that Montpelier could not reach it.

The two teams presented a curious assortment. On the Barre there was the banker, Charlie "Cy Young" Wishart, supported behind the bat by Ed. Charbonneau (supported when the balls didn't get by him), on first the Apollo-like form of "Willie" Reynolds loomed across the horizon, George Tilden waddled around second base as fast as his average-drops would permit, George "Dorman" Gorman tried to play short, Attorney "Bill" Wishart held down third, Ned Roberts ambled back and forth between the bench and left field until Manager Tom Carwell replaced him, "Cricket" Carpenter, the only pencil-pusher in the lot, covered several acres in center, while "Bill" Duthie stood up in right field until he got tired and "Bill" Noonan was sent out to pose statuesquely. "Jimmie" Smith, who has been napping out the M. & W. freight office every day to get up his muscle for the game, was put where he could do the least damage, which was on the bench.

"Symp of Tan" Greene's sly-like anatomy filled the box for Montpelier, while "Fanny Duff" Dobbs swore at him from behind the catcher's mask. "Jack" Leland wore Ashmore's suit, and so thought he was playing first base. "Ned" Bailey made a bid at playing second, but Postmaster Carl Bancroft did the same in short, while Hector Dubue (imported for the game) did all he could on third to give the game to Barre. Wood dropped several beauties in left field, "Ned" Field was a selder but couldn't connect with "Cy's" curves. Attorney "Bill" Torno was planted as a monument in right field.

Barre failed to score in only one inning, and that was only because of lack of breath, while Montpelier was blanked three times. In the first inning Montpelier took advantage of the fact that Barre's battery combination hadn't got greased up and scored four times on three passes, a wild pitch, three passed balls and one scratch hit. After the battery got to going all right the fielders began to make errors. When "Cy" Wishart put on a little steam Bailey of Montpelier protested that he wasn't playing a ladylike game.

Montpelier is credited with making ten hits off "Cy" and "Rube" Greene's twisters yielded 19 hits for Barre. Really there ought to have been more scoring by the winners, but they ran bases with recklessness, especially "Jimmie" Smith who, while running for some decrepit players, would take a lead off the bases of half a foot and then get caught.

The game started at three o'clock, and it was dark when the last man went out. Capt. Wishart made a dive for the pennant, which was then wound about the person of one of Barre's most loyal rooters, James Campbell. On the trip home it was spread the length of one of the incoming electric cars and then suspended across North Main street. The banner will remain in Barre during the year, but Montpelier will be allowed to look at it occasionally.

As much of the scoring as the busy man could take was as follows:

Barre	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.

SIDE-LIGHTS ON THE GAME.

Gorman got five hits in five times at the bat.

The gate receipts will not pay the indebtedness.

Fifty-three Barre men went to bat in eight innings.

Greene didn't have any luck with his spit ball.

Umpire Daley was grossly insulted when he was called "McQuark."

Hector Dubue came all the way from Waterbury, Conn., to play in the game.

Jim Smith is better as a train despatcher than as a base-runner despatcher.

Dubue and Dobbs were the star men. They made nine of Montpelier's 18 errors.

Dobbs casually remarked that Whitney "won't get me for no $75 a week and board."

"Bill" Duthie reminded one of "Imperious Sam" at the bat, all excepting the batting.

Bancroft had a splendid pose which he copied after Ulnic, but the ball always found a hole.

A ball was tagged "Through Freight" when it dropped through "Bill" Duthie's hands in right field.

Johnny Dobbs bossed his employer, Bailey, about, and acted as if he was heaving trunks also.

Montpelier thought Barre was introducing a "ringer" when Noonan was brought into the game.

When one Montpelier woman saw Ned Roberts' spire-like form out in left field she began to look for the inscription.

The Montpelier ladies cheered wildly and without restraint when Postmaster Bancroft succeeded in stopping a grounder after eight had got by him.

The pennant looked good flying from the flag-staff, the same staff, by the way, from which, declared one Burlington man, "that rag" would never fly.

"Slim" Greene is reported to have lost eight pounds because of the strain of being player-captain as well as pitcher. Greene had a free arm swing that reminded you so much of Sheldon.

Under the mistaken impression that it was a good play a Montpelier female cheered enthusiastically when "Ned" Bailey dropped a pop fly that he tried hard to get away from and couldn't.

Dr. Knauss of Montpelier was bitterly disappointed not to be able to play, but injuries received in practice kept him on the bench. However, he had the satisfaction of pounding the sore spots on his comrades.

Manager "Ned" Bailey of the Pavilion thought he was grabbing wads of money across his hotel counter, only to find that it was air. Once Bailey went after a fly and Reynolds laid his little form down in front of him. Bailey didn't get the fly.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Wiggs, recently with Burlington of the Northern League, pitched splendid ball for Detroit against Cleveland Saturday, his team winning 6 to 2. Wiggs gave Cleveland but five hits, struck out five, passed two and also made a two-bagger. Wiggs was caught by Warner, also of the Burlington team.

CLEVER GAME OF FOOT BALL

Bon-accords Win a Crucial Game From Rangers

BY SCORE OF THREE TO 0

This Victory for the Bons Makes Three Teams in Vermont League Tied for State Championship.

Saturday was a Bon-accord day. In one of the fastest and cleverest games of association foot ball ever witnessed in this city the Bon-accords defeated the Rangers by the score of 3 to 0 on the latter's grounds. It was a critical game in the series now being played for the Scampini cup, for had the Rangers won or secured a draw they would have been champions of the league and holders of the cup for another year. The Bon-accords' winning gives all three of the clubs the same standing, four points each, and another series of games will have to be played to decide the championship.

In the first part of the first half the Bon-accords were given two free kicks on penalties, but the good work of Stewart at goal prevented scoring. After twenty minutes of clever play, Alex Murray scored the first goal for the Bon-accords. It was one of the prettiest goals ever kicked on the field and brought cheer after cheer ringing over the field from the excited spectators. There was no further scoring in that half.

In the second half, Jopp kicked two goals for the Bon-accords, but with all their cleverness the Champions were unable to score, and the game ended with Bon-accords 3, Rangers 0.

The Bon-accords line-up was as follows: Goal, Cruikshank; backs, J. G. McKernan and Mitchell; half backs, Simpson, Craik (captain) and Stewart; forwards, G. Taylor, Brew, Murry, Dawson, Jopp; linesman, R. Clark.

The following men represented the Rangers: Goal, Hogg; backs, Scott and Dinnie; half backs, Birnie, McLeod and Lindsay; forwards, Will McIntosh, Cunningham, Burnett and Kessock; linesman, McKenzie; referee, Andrew Beattie of Northfield; time, 45 minutes halve.

OPENING OF FOOT BALL.

St. Albans Higt Defeated Brigham Academy.

St. Albans, Sept. 18.—The St. Albans high school football eleven defeated the Brigham Academy team Saturday afternoon by a score of 21 to 0.

The game was a clean one, void of wrangling, and showed that the high school boys were altogether too much for the Academy lads. Every man on the high school team played a good game but the work of Reagan, Anderson, Mann and Ward was especially good. The team will go to Plattsburg next Saturday, where they will play Plattsburg high school.

Invitation to Bishop Courtney.

The county of Lunenburg, in Nova Scotia, was settled by the Germans, and the children of these settlers are still German. At one of the little hotels in the town of the same name a party of drummers were waiting for the boat. They were primed and ready for any lark, when in strolled a well-known character, Nell Hyson, also a little "sprung."

In the parlor stood a solitary individual dressed in the garb of a minister. Nell spied this man and asked the leader of the jokers if he thought the stranger would drink with him.

"Sure," said the leader, "but he is the Bishop of Nova Scotia, and you must call him 'my Lord.'"

Hyson marched up to the stranger and, giving him a familiar slap on the back, shouted: "Mein Gott, Bishop, you drinks mit me!"

What the fiery Bishop said (he was none other than Bishop Courtney, former preacher at St. Paul's Boston) I did not learn.—Boston Herald.

A Serious Mistake.

It is a serious thing to neglect your heart.

The moment you detect any weakness or irregularity, such as short breath after exercise, palpitation, fluttering, weak or hungry spells, pain in breast, side or shoulder, or uneasiness when lying on left side, you should take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure; it rarely ever fails to relieve all these symptoms.

If not promptly restored, chronic heart disease soon develops, and then it only remains for some sudden strain to completely exhaust the heart.

Thousands of hopeless cases have been cured, and if you do not try it, it will be the greatest mistake of your life.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Remedies I was in a very bad condition. I had stomach trouble, with severe distress after eating. My heart hurt me, and I had shortness of breath, palpitation. My pulse was irregular, and my feet, ankles and hands were swollen. Every month at regular periods I had severe pain. I wrote Dr. Miles Medical Co. and they advised me to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Heart Cure. I soon noticed an improvement, and I continued the medicine until I was completely cured. I feel like a different person. In fact I have not felt so well for 15 years."

MYSTERIOUS MURDER IN NEW YORK CITY.

Unknown Woman the Victim—One of Worst Crimes Police Have Had to Deal With in Years.

New York, Sept. 18.—The finding of the body of a handsome woman, about 25 years old, lying bruised and battered in a clump of briar bushes near the Pelham road in the Bronx, New York city, revealed one of the worst crimes with which the police have had to deal in many years. An autopsy last night showed that the woman had been cruelly assaulted and choked to death. There was every indication that she had fought desperately. Her clothing was almost torn into shreds. The body was removed to the Fordham morgue and 50 detectives and specially assigned policemen set to work to establish the victim's identity and find the murderer.

The body had been dragged to the clump of briar bushes from a point some distance away. The spot was beneath a famous old tree known to the residents of the Bronx as "the haunted oak," because of the memory which fingers of the hanging of a spy on one of its limbs during the American revolution.

Mrs. James Black, who owns the property near where the body was found, made the gruesome discovery as she was wandering about the place gathering wild flowers. Ordinarily the murder might have gone undiscovered for many days, for the body was well concealed in a spot that is little frequented. Mrs. Black ran to a nearby house and gave the alarm. The slain girl's face was distorted, and her whole body seemed covered with bruises, the result of the brutal attack upon her and the subsequent dragging of the body over the rough ground and through the briar bushes.

The woman had been neatly dressed in a white shirt waist, brown skirt, blue petticoat, black stockings and oxford ties. One of the shoes was found some distance from the scene of the murder. The girl was five feet two inches tall, of fair complexion, with brown hair and blue eyes. Her nails had recently been manicured.

JOHN A. MCCALL IS TO TESTIFY.

The President of the New York Life Insurance Company Will Go On the Stand.

New York, Sept. 18.—Announcement was made that John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance company, had been subpoenaed by the legislative committee on insurance inquiry, and will appear before the committee when it resumes its sittings this week.

When Mr. McCall was asked yesterday to make a statement about the testimony of Vice-President Perkins at Friday's hearing, relative to the republican campaign contributions on the part of the New York Life, he replied: "I have nothing to say in advance of my testimony before the legislative committee. When I appear before the committee I shall tell all I know."

Assemblyman Prentiss, secretary of the insurance legislative committee, who is a republican, said yesterday: "The committee wants it understood that the revelation of the campaign contributions on the part of the New York Life were not any surprise to the committee. We knew of the transaction long before it was brought out in the testimony of Mr. Perkins, and it was led up to gradually."

NORTHFIELD.

The Northfield Branch of the Retail Clerk's International Protective Association met and organized Thursday night in the Modern Woodmen's hall. Mr. Halvosa of Barre, state organizer, was present and delivered a very interesting and instructive address before the members. There are 26 charter members to the union. The officers elected were as follows: President, William T. Kerr; 1st vice president, Ordie Gokey; 2nd vice president, Earl L. Dean; financial secretary, Miss Nona Hayes; corresponding secretary, Miss Bernice Greenwood; treasurer, Thomas O'Hare; trustees, Guy Howe, Roy Bullock and Mayo P. Blake; guardian, George Cady; guide, Homer Dutton. There will be a meeting at 7:30 next Thursday night. The meetings for the present will be held in the Woodmen's hall.

MERROW'S BAIL REDUCED.

Burlington Doctor Will Have to Furnish Only $10,000 in Suit.

Brattleboro, Sept. 18.—Dr. J. W. Merrow of Burlington, defendant in a suit brought by George F. Kimball of New York city to recover damages in the sum of $50,000, for the death of his wife, was brought to Brattleboro Saturday by Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas Reeves to attend a hearing in the U. S. circuit court before Judge Hoyt H. Wheeler on a motion for reduction of bail.

Dr. Merrow has been in jail since he was arrested, about 10 days ago, being unable to furnish bail in the sum of $50,000. Judge Wheeler reduced the bail to $10,000.

Dr. Merrow was represented by Rufus A. Brown of Burlington. Max L. Powell of that city appeared for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Kimball died in New York last February. Her husband, who is administrator of her estate, alleges that her death was due to malpractice on the part of the defendant.

"She might have been living today if she had been skillfully treated by a skillful physician," declared Mr. Powell.

Mr. Brown stated that his wife was treated for a while by Dr. Merrow for cancer, but that Dr. Merrow told her nothing but that an operation would save her, and that she died after a second operation in a New York hospital of her own choosing.

EVIDENCE ALL IN.

In Slander Suit of Girard vs. Mrs. Prior of Burlington.

Burlington, Sept. 18.—The evidence in the case of Philippe Girard vs. Mrs. Sefie Prior was completed Saturday. The defendant's case was completed Friday night. Saturday morning the plaintiff put in four witnesses
